Subject: IMG supervision

I would like to reply regarding the draft guidelines for IMG supervision-having spent 12 months supervising an IMG i believe i have some understanding of the difficulties associated. Could i point out to you that the level of supervision you are requiring in these draft guidelines for level 1 supervision for an IMG doctor is comparable to that for a medical student -this is not sustainable in private medical practice nor appropriate for people who have sat exams and qualified to practice in their own country.
