

From: Samantha [REDACTED]
Sent: Monday, 18 May 2015 6:24 PM
To: medboardconsultation
Subject: Cosmetic injectors

Hi there,

I have had a cosmetic procedure myself and am also a nurse. Having had the procedure conducted by both professionals I would like to add that the care received from the nurse in terms of pre and post procedure care, risks and benefits and was no way forced into the procedure and felt a patient centred approach was taken. In contrast with the medical practitioner I felt as though i was merely another number and that money certainly played a factor rather than what actually needed to be done. I have heard of other similar cases also, I really hope that the board considers this when deciding what face to face consult looks like and whether phone orders and review via Skype are still considered acceptable. I certainly believe the care provided by a nurse cannot be discounted, obviously bearing in mind the legalities around prescribing.

Thanks,

Samantha [REDACTED]